Workshop and Lectures

25th November
to 30th November 2018

Sunday 25th November (10€)

Supersensible Perception and its Preliminary Stages

The capacity for supersensible perception can be attained through an individual, personal path of development. At any point in time you are much closer to supersensible perception than you may think.

Possibilities for attaining access to perception of the supersensible are presented in the lecture, and connections with current spiritual research are made. Questions from the audience arising from the lecture can be addressed in depth in a question and answer session.

Monday 26th November to Friday 30th November 10:30 - 13:30h (150€)

Workshop with Frank and Inessa Burdich

A practice-based workshop for the development of etheric and astral perception

Although everyone more or less has the ability to perceive etheric and astral forces, most people are not aware of this ability. This workshop will provide the opportunity for participants to broaden and deepen their capacities.

The workshop will take place mainly in nature and will focus on practical exercises that can lead to the perception of supersensible forces and beings.

The workshop is suitable for people with no previous as well for people who have some experience but are hesitant about their capacities and would like to develop them further.

Tuesday 27th November (10€)

Working Together with Elemental Beings - Grasping the Forces of Nature in their Essence

Reading about elemental beings can leave an abstract impression at first. This lecture imparts a basic understanding of this field and presents possibilities for the perception of these beings. Using current examples from supersensible research, possibilities for working together with these beings, and thus for mutual, conscious development, are shown.

Friday 30th November (10€)

Human Beings and the World Beyond the Threshold – Fundamentals of Perception into the Realm Beyond Death

The dead have not left us. They are still invisibly present in our world and in relationship with us. The lecture presents results of concrete supersensible research regarding the forms of appearance the dead in our environment adopt, and what possibilities of perception are available to us living beings.
